Positive Comments:

@hardiksharma3161: Controversial feature ?

@costafilh0: This is how Brazil made the tech news... jokes about censorship. COOL!

@tumado7304: Brasil is know for having criminals as government , right now they have one , its also a country where if you visit , do not walk in the streets with clothing with know brands or any for of phones , you will get a mob trying to rob you .

@V2inur: Surprised Elon didn't sue xVideo to get their domain

@Jethro420: ngl i was half paying attention and thought the tesla car theft was happening in america xD i mean, im sure U.S. cops are seeing this and going "yes, we should do that too. " except you'll have to take them to court to get the car back. they'll treat it like they do phones that they take from people.

@John.McAfees.Dead.Mans.Switch: Xtube lol what a joke. X is already more censorship hungry than Facebook and will fail.

@Kaelthas111090: XTube and CoxMedia fantastic combo! is this still a tech channel?

@JGott0001: Riley's uncanny ability to deliver unsettling news in a fun way that almost lets you ignore that your phone Eavesdrops on you , Your computer is watching you and the state can take your vehicle if they think it's useful for Surveillance.

YouTube Comments Analysis Report

@SharkWars180: W love you elon. pause

@zengeki23: I mean they have explicit content already, it was a matter of time to be honest.

@raptorswire7212: Why are devices collecting data about me to serve me better ads??
I use adblockers.

I haven't seen an ad for ears!

Complete waste of energy

@Nostalgia_Realm: There was a time where I thought Tesla cars were cool. But man they're really making it hard to not hate on the cars or the company.

@shawno66: I would switch in 1 second if it was as smooth as youtube.

@Rmm1722: Wow ?

@fizzlefresh14: smartphones listen to your conversations: TechLinked confirmed. I always wondered why when I mentioned a random product for the first time I would soon after see ads for it (I didnt actually wonder). Glad to see some publicity about that.

YouTube Comments Analysis Report

@TransoceanicOutreach: I used to make a fair bit of money on XTube, for doing what some men get arrested on trains for. It's a funny old world.

@kensmith5694: Fun fact: Linux doesn't spy on you.

@mr_cool5923: give it time people will figure out how to either remove it or completely disable it when it comes to copilot

@NacZach: I don't think you mentioned x representative had to flee the country for threats of imprisonment from the government. EDS is real

@DeepfriedChips: Qualcomm's mobile SoCs tend to have pretty good graphics performance, how they'd goof that up when bringing it into a pc, not to mention the amount of space they could leverage they could've probably made a gpu that's at least 1.2x better than what they put in phones

@tyguy101a: 45 TOPS is great, but I miss the days of BOPS and MOPS.

@jumbomuffin1316: Elon is becoming a villain. Also Google.. imagine buying a pixel lol. And these idiots want blue vs green to end

@JAK_EDITS.: ?Ceremonial sun altar?

LMAO

@literalsarcasm1830: It seems like Copilot is becoming the new "put a bird on it"

@djouze00: The good thing about copilot is that it makes it a lot easier for me to decide who I should listen to or not. For example, as soon as a coworker spills "Oh, we should try to use copilot for that", I know that I can ignore their opinion and try to find someone more suited to the job.

@thatprettyparrot: It's official: modern tech is driving itself to the dumpster.

@user-te1hb4gh8n: Cox is definitely the right name for spyware on your network nice marketing .

@DGgode: I would be happy to move to XTube as YouTube only seems to be interested in censoring content they do not agree with these days.

@michaelrogers6008: They know Tesla's aren't the only ones who do this right

@k98killer: Since X is trying to launch a video platform, they could combine "X" with "videos" to name their new product.

@ghomerhust: if my car gets towed because my cameras might have caught a crime, the cops better GIVE me a car to use while they have mine, or i'll be filing theft charges

@DJBillionator: It's okay. Not everyone can be as cool as Elon. Simp more! You'll come around!

YouTube Comments Analysis Report

@yaughl: Couldn't the police instead just ask the Tesla owners about obtaining footage? If not already a feature, Tesla owners should be able to download their own camera data to subsequently hand over the police. This would give the owner the ability to ONLY choose to hand over external footage pertaining to the direction and time frame in question, preserving their privacy.

@tehmoros: Soooooooo... Now that we now about Cox, the whole "I'm telling you, I see ads about something I talked about but never browsed" thing is plausible. Good. Thought I was going crazy for a moment (and not only me - a lot of people I talked to had the same impression).

@yaughl: Microsoft is really going full steam on co-pilot eh. I'm glad I no longer use Windows.

@Brenchino: Everybody knows the phones are listening thats why if you say your looking at buying something or mention something like temu, everything is full of said ads

@lee_:_: Next copilot button to be on the copilot button, you heard it here first @guessundheit6494: 3:10 - How is this any different than crapple and its deliberate slowing of phones to "encourage sales"? This is why I want a 4G dumbphone, if there were any with a good camera (12MP or better).

6:10 - Just wait until this is misused to steal cars, to target and harass people. "We believed you had a camera and took it in good faith to obtain evidence!" Then cops

YouTube Comments Analysis Report

B&E the cars and claim to "find evidence by accident" (read: plant it).

@mr702s: Yea BS, the voice spyware is a real problem

@m4heshd: They crammed the word `"COX"` into the script as much as they possibly could. ?

@agoddamnferret: if you towed my car, to get data off of it, you'd regret your decisions very quick. and it's 100% why people have started disrespecting law enforcement they don't know their places

@Blue2x2x: Yeah... gooooooood luck, Elon. Considering the name, and the fact that X is just another "FrEeSpEeCh" platform that is anything but a place that upholds the principle of Freedom of Speech and Expression, alienate anyone who isn't (by your words) "nOrMaL".

@ulischmidt03: Oh shit, Xvideos is real!!!

@XeroJin84: We can all watch x videos now. lol

@ohdubwest7533: So ? the listening software. Has anyone considered that pretty much ever government employee/official has a smartphone in their pocket at all times? The person answering phone calls for Social Security all the way to top level DOD staff. Not very encouraging all things considered.

YouTube Comments Analysis Report

@tailkinker1972: It's actually quite easy to uninstall Recall. You just format the computer, then install Linux. Not only do you get rid of Recall, you also get a more robust OS.

@Cringing_Cranium: I don't use social media at all. I also have a nearly google free phone. They already record every text and phone conversation. I also have personalized ads turned off and every browser blocks their shite muffins.

@SilentKaliSmoker: I found copilot on my windows 10, 12 yr old laptop. Luckily I could just delete the app. ?

@TheEuropeanFox: Honestly if Elon adds another couple 'X' and pivot their business model I expect they'll have a lot of new users

@anthonyjudd231: Pretty sure I saw that one some time when I was younger googling things I shouldn't be, and once again that's exactly what this will be used for today, just as a tv app.

@ZeHamberglar: That Tesla towing thing can't be constitutional, right? There's no chance that's not a 4th amendment violation.

@Kaziklu: My partner and I were chatting the other day. She uses her iPad at her place but not mine. I did no searches... but things she searched for on her iPad at her home, on her network... started showing up in my feeds... and all we did was talk about it. I never searched for even the same product category.

YouTube Comments Analysis Report

They absolutely listen already.

@TechySpeaking: First

@KTSpeedruns: Oprah probably getting paid huge bucks to shill AI and make it sound good by bringing on business people who will exclusively tout its praise to get more funding from investors. She's a joke.

@felipemalmeida: Brazil is suffering with a dictatorship from supreme court, which has interfered directly on the elections of the current president that was also freed by these same Supreme Court.

@XzTS-Roostro: The fact that there was a site called XTube, owned by a Canadian conglomerate, was clearly overlooked by a good amount in R&D and PR.

@andrewinconspicuous4634: Great, cars now need a Witness Protection program...

@logan_page: Finally, I can watch XVideos with my whole family!

@tpg81: Good for Brasil ???

@justicem5919: "new opportunities for advertisers"... yeah...

@jo-fe9mb: The ad microphone article is years old, they just reposted it recently for clicks. This has been know forever.

@eduardomoura2813: 1:06 fun fact, no one ever voted for this guy that frequently orders to block sites like google, all the things from meta and many other messaging apps.

another fun fact, he will be able to keep doing that until he is 75 years old.

@mrtonyvillagomez: To the host: do u do standup? You're soo funny! ??

@Jordansklar0698: glad i dont have a damn tesla its a pos car

@masterdoge17: keep that Xtube title up. Hard and strong TL ?

@lowkeygaming4716: Let's be honest on what type of videos you watch in X ?

@HansHammertime: A step closer to real life Cyberpunk 2077 every day

@therinwhitten: Experts? AI isn't even actual AI. It's marketing lmao.

@brettrace: Who ever is listening through my phone is hearing some really wild... great ideas that will make them billions of dollars (and not a bunch of crazy shyt about immigration policy, ?)

@thepopmanbrad: at this rate i really hope more countries ban X

YouTube Comments Analysis Report

@anamoyeee: I wonder how many..... "X videos" will be uploaded there

@Stevonicus: Nice Portlandia reference

@coeal2680: Video hosting on a website ran by a free speech literalists?

That will not last long before FBI gets involved..

@mattgibbia2692: 5:44 This sounds like a 4th amendment violation to me, but the police often trample all over peoples rights, so i can't say im surprised @craigschrickker2312: What an awesomely funny episode.

@eriksilveira9356: All tentatives to put AI / copilot sounds like more bloat ware and privacy invasion

@RonnstenEast: With Microsoft getting ready to watch everything you do on your pc. It sounds like there has never been a better time to consider Linux. :D

@LokiCDK: Seeing that the states is very much against implementing a Good Samaritan law. And they have protections against unreasonable search and seizure in their constitution. I feel like a police department is about to get slapped with some hefty suits.

@Ashworth-Media: Xtube was a Canadian pornographic video hosting service and social networking site based in Toronto, Ontario. It was established in 2006 and is notable for being the first adult community site to allow users to upload and share adult videos. Xtube was not a producer of pornography, instead it provided a platform for content uploaded by users. User-submitted content included pornographic videos, webcam models, pornographic photographs, and erotic literature, and incorporated social networking features.

@TheComputerFool: The brazil supreme court judge is a lawier for criminals like drug dealers and more, brazil is no longer a democracy because all the supreme court members was put there by the left and they judge the eletions like Maduro did @ciceroromero15: Just so y'all know, that Judge is the most dictator to ever believe hile has power to ever exist, prosecuting people on a whim and also creating evidence to do so.

@DoomWalker42: You know the noises that the astronauts heard on the Boeing spacecraft? I think that's the arrival of the Quick Bits!

@kaz49: Microsoft always wants transparency, just not in the direction you think @conreo: I'm waiting for Starlink to be banned by certain countries, it would be good for the environment since it increases the hole in the ozone layer.

YouTube Comments Analysis Report

@Ness_and_Sonic: I'd suggest Elon Musk consider banning the judge that told him to ban accounts they're don't like and don't unban the account unless he issues an appology and states the accounts he wants banned shouldn't have been banned. It would give the judge a taste of his own medicine and offer him a chance to decide if what he asked Elon to do is really worth it.

@slumlord2625: innocent people getting their teslas towed, reason #17,457,238 to not buy a car newer than 2010

@R4d1o4ct1v3_: Once my family starts calling me for tech support dealing with those new AI features, I'm collecting the hours and sending an invoice for them to Microsoft. (And yes, they'll all be counted as overtime.)

@vr0k3n: 2 things: xtube was an adult content site up until 2021, so maybe not the best name to give it ?

Also, has everyone already forgotten about the NSA's PRISM spyware leaked by Snowden??????

@TheObsesedAnimeFreaks: The actually nonbias statement about whats going on in brazil, judge ordered x to ban political opponents not "alleged accounts spreading misinformation"

@Adman1020: Riley jokes, but I absolutely expect a Surface or Logitech mouse with a Copilot button to be launched this year.

YouTube Comments Analysis Report

@James2210: Elon doin a really early april fools joke

@danieljames500: the way you talked about brazil made it sound like that justice isn't acting like a dictator and is just banning x so that people who oppose him and criticize him don't have a platform. that's most likely what they're under ?investigation? for @Leme994: On windows recall, I don't mind it knowing everything I do. Let's be honest, tech companies already know everything we do, at least now I can also benefit from it

@obaolade1232: Xtube sounds like an adult parody of youtube

@RenegadeJr100: LOL, don't google XTube

@pikeyMcBarkin: so the x-tv app yeah. that should work. LMAO

@TheElusiveReality: what's that, the thing i have been saying for literally a decade is finally proven true, that ur phone and devices are necessarily always listening to you (how else would they know when you say "hey siri/hey google"? come tf on)

@TheElusiveReality: im positive this naming is on purpose, theres no way they dont know about xtube

@sneeznoodle: "Your favourite X LONGFORM videos" Nice save

@luke.dethomas: I can vouch that active listening is a thing. I just got new work shoes.

YouTube Comments Analysis Report

My old lady paid so the purchase was not connected to my name. 1 hour later I started getting adds for the same shoe I bought

@jaquessiemasz8650: There's never been a better time to switch to Linux and any open source OS for your phone

@unkown34x33: thanks for reporting on the Brazilian ban Riley. and NOT twisted the story. it's all Elon's fault... as usual based on all the evidence. though I hope the ban will stay forever

@FlameForgedSoul: The Brazill Vs X becomes even more of a clown show when you know about (and are completely unsurprised by) the almost immediate spike in VPN sign ups after the ruling. Brazilian Lex Luthor (thanks Mental Outlaw) then decided the play there was to threatened to fine people close to 9K a day if caught using a VPN to circumvent the ban. Which, you know, good luck with that. Be nice to see Elon KSE with _certain other governments._

@ammarahmed7566: They should have called it "videos" would have been hilarious ngl

In the next 3 days, I got offers from 3 different stores for the same exact product including my picture and size. (4 sizes)

@LadyOfTheBog: It was not "only one supreme court judge", he is the head of the supreme court, it was a decision that was voted by them. Y'all spreading misinformation, just not the kind that will get you banned in Brazil.

@66_Psycho_66: Elon musk is nothing more then an bully I hope all is business go bankrupt

@OledBurnInKing: I wish desktop cpu's were still available on modern gaming laptops like it was back in 2019 with the msi gt 76 titan and the alienware area 51m that used the Intel core i9-9900k desktop cpu. The last gaming laptop with a gaming desktop cpu was the intel core i9-119900k. For example, have the intel core i9-12900k desktop cpu on a gaming laptop and an optional amd ryzen 9 5950 x desktop cpu in a gaming laptop. Desktop cpu's have been done before on older gaming laptops but now newer laptops cpu's and desktop cpu's are filled with ai crap and crapilot spyware/bloatware with windows 11 that takes screenshot of the users personal private data that has a possibility of being leaked when ai is being used. Force arbitration already exist in the terms and conditions. Unfortunately, there is no law against force arbitration since it's already happening with certain brands and manufacturers. For instance, roku already has force arbitration with there roku devices otherwise they will brick the devices if someone does not agree to there terms and conditions.

@ranjitmandal1612: Qualcomm should lauch the new model in 700 to 600 range

@mdahsanraza: Why does google/apple need cox?! They can do this directly through their ios/android!

YouTube Comments Analysis Report

@whorta: The actual legal reason for Brazil to block X was because X didn't have any legal representation in Brazil, which is against the law for any international company that wants to act in national soil.

Elon Musk removed X's representation in Brazil which made it an illegal company thus resulting in being blocked. 1:19

@prezlamen7906: Can someone explain to me what "legitimate interest" means? Like companies arent asking for my permission to steal my data but they steal it because theyre legitimately interested?

What, can i now go in some companys office and steal their tax evasion papers because im legitimately interested in that?

@modernunguy3666: Why would you want scientists to talk to you about AI lol scientists know nothing about AI they're not computer engineers lol

@modernunguy3666: It's pretty common sense that the phones have been listening to your conversations for many years now which is why every time you talk about something it shows up in your ads we're not dumb it's been doing that for a long time this is pretty much fact at this point not theory or conspiracy theory

@giuseppebadala5063: News just keeps getting worse, big tech companies just keep ruining EVERYTHING.

It's so overwhelming i just want to throw anything everything electronic i own and live

@kal--yt4es: Ngl the cox media things might actually be real, recently i was talking about buying a diamond and then suddenly my insta feed was full of ads telling me to buy a diamond

@christopherdecorte1599: I haven't been turning my computer on much since Windows 11. I just dont like thinking about how much it's spying and the experience of being forced software i dont want. Can they go go back to selling a real operating system that just loads the apps and games i choose i would even pay more to not be swamped with trash and choose what i need.

@ThePlayerOfGames: 6:13 Microsoft increasing their spyware from "telling Microsoft every URL you visit, sending Microsoft every key stroke you type, and reading and digesting every file they copy to OneDrive" to "video taping every moment you interact with a Microsoft product" should surely encourage more people to switch to Linux where there's community projects to let you use ML hardware to run your own local LLM at least. All without spyware

@Rotblattchinchilla12: How much money will X burn, and then blame on others? :D

@Ertz86: OK, but what about when I see ads or video recomendations for stuff i was just thinking about @ittadakimaho: and again.. MS clearly shows that it hates its users?

YouTube Comments Analysis Report

just even having recall present is a risk.. and with ms also retracting to option to uninstall.. they also xlearly show how much you can trust their statement: its optional, its local only.. its secure

just no, no and no

@snawbadde2371: Cops tow the Tesla parked 5 cars away to see who took the original Tesla ?

@flackenstien: 1:06 Who decides what is dis/misinformation? I feel like the people who use that word the most are the ones who spread the most.

@smittyvanjagermanjenson182: Oh step quick bits, what're you doing?

@terrieterblans7027: X is great!

@Argletrough: ...200V CPU? sounds safe

@randomuserame: AFAIK they would need a subpoena for your car to take it on the whole. A warrant is to search it and typically means a physical search. Also, potential witnesses cannot be compelled to testify. If they can't steal your security cameras out of your house to "verify" a robbery across the street, then they can't take your car. because the cameras might have seen something. More importantly, why does every damn thing need a camera AND the ability to connect to the internet?

@mikemjlove4988: Each day these AI companies getting weirder and weirder, the more I'm getting committed to shift to Linux. Only if there was a pure Linux OS for Android @ncrtrooper2370: good thing we will all forget about cox media and their dystopian transgressions within a fortnight.

@Souchirouu: If at least one of the CEO's of Alphabet/Google doesn't go to jail for a long time for spying on literally billions of people...

But much more likely they will pay a tiny fine with the promise they won't do it again.. which they won't! Again implies they had stopped and had to start again. Which won't be necessary. China is far from perfect but at least its government can and does keep its largest corporations and most wealthy citizens accountable when they break the law. Which, according to some people, is one of the main reasons to have laws and a government, but what do I know!

@Plaseebo: 1:34 tht adlib guy is awesome xD

@Kazuto_Wildcat: I swear if Microsoft releases Recall and I find it on my PC it will go straight to the bin. They say you cant uninstall it but Revo has a different opinion on that. Im not against AI but I dont want it on my PC

@Snottco: Mate and I were talking about mice on discord. I mention the mouse I had at the time and the advert was in both of our instagram feeds within 1 minute of me mentioning it. At the time the mouse was 1-2 years old. They are listening but i just accept it now @Terryhunt385: You really need to research names before putting them on YouTube. Xtube is an adult site.

@tohur: I recalled Winblows off my PC. These days you run winblows at your own risk.. Got my popcorn ready for when the day comes a mass ransomware hits winblows and steals all windows users personal identities.. if you have more then two brain cells you have probably already removed winblows..

@oladrolahola: First Tech linked of the week and we only get 4 quickbits. How will I get my daily fix?

@justmgm: The part about being listened to constantly by your phone is true.

I don't use Facebook, but I do keep it as a birthday reminder. I was talking to people about maybe applying for a Python computer course. Without searching anything in my browser, Facebook started showing me ads for Python courses... I can't stress this enough, I did not use my browser, pc or phone, to look for something like that yet.

And I was talking in my native language, which suggest to me that they could make universal translators that work, they just choose not to.

@royschultz1377: Recall and Copilot are good arguments for LINUX

@MichaelOfRohan: I think maintaining a bare bones alternative to googles Youtube and steadily adding features over time is going to pay off. Everyone hates google. If my creators started posting their videos there along side here, i would move there in a heartbeat. All you guys have to do is decide its worth it and start a clone channel over there.

@tjsbdgdnrndbjdndkendb1653: Intel launches its new mobile processor, to the delight and fanfare of....Intel executives.

@chris_007: We already know that they listen to our conversations, but nice to know it's confirmed now

@Mamiya645: Lunar Lake is super impressive but no thanks, I extra do not trust Intel one bit, even though I live in a nation where consumer protection is a thing.

@djmeowth: 0:37 I love that the promo image for the content you can watch on X Tube is a video about X, a video about SpaceX, and what appear to be four videos from Tucker Carlson.

@ianmiklas8079: These streaming services are getting ridiculous.

Today I went on Amazon prime to access the Max account I have through prime. Then later I saw that Hulu was selling Max for cheaper, so now I gotta cancel one streaming service through another streaming service to change it to have the other streaming service be under the other streaming service because suddenly it's cheaper.

Started watching the Harry Potter movies one day and the next day they were all buy or rent instead of included free like they were the day before. Glad I didn't buy or rent them because now they're back on Max for free a month later?. I really feel bad for all the people who may have. This is not the only series to jump around like this.

Subscriptions do not give you the whole experience without adding other streaming services or paying a premium on top of the premium to watch the whole catalog of shows. I'm getting confused. If some of the stuff is going to be on some of the platforms some of the time I feel like it's just cable with extra steps. Long/short I don't think there should be yet ANOTHER streaming service to add to the confusion.

Also while I'm complaining, can we pull back on the advertisements? Like, altogether. I can't even drive to work without seeing advertisements on billboards, can't read a book without advertisements, can't watch paid streaming services without advertisements, I can barely even go to a public park without seeing advertisements. On top of that, our games and apps, Google searches with sponsored content showing on top, any website containing anything remotely close to a recipe, paper mail that I didn't sign up for, radio, TV shows, app stores, physical stores, websites, restaurants, podcasts, YouTube, the menus on my tv, social media platforms? it's too much.

Sorry for complaining and thank you for listening.

@ViciousSadistic: Every microphone attached to a smart device is ALWAYS listening and if the device can broadcast, you guessed it ANYONE can listen to EVERYTHING at any time. Smart home devices can and will narc on you.

@HatecrewDethrol: I'm sure Elon's new thing won't be full of nazis like his other thing is

@AddlerMartin: Not only that, but if we (here in Brazil) use VPN to open twitter, we'll be paying a hefty up to 9k USD fine. No, mom, I'm not using proton to open twitter

@dawsachu: I talked about wanting a bean bag chair for like a week and got a good deal a week later

Everyone knew that they listened

@smolPjusk: Ur allowed only to watch a x amount, then u need paid verified to watch more

@JanV.-hx4vb: XTV sound pretty strange.

@daniel-bg5nq: Wow ltt being negative (and supplying incomplete info) about x/elon, how unusual!!

@fridaycaliforniaa236: As much as 13th and 14th gen Intel CPUs are trash, it feels like however that the Lunar Lake ones are pretty decent.

@TwinShards: Towing a Tesla for possibly catching a crime???? What in the actual heck are they thinking. Is it really that dam hard to leave a piece of paper stuck under the wiper to notify and request the footage the car recorded instead of towing it???

@dtibor5903: The microphone listening is real and the google play store services is listening to the users since the beginnings of android. I have done several tests by randomly telling just 1-2 phrase about holiday destinations to friends in person and the next day i was flooded with travel reccommendations exactly to that particular destination. If you disable microphone access to the play store services, no longer provides relevant ads and you lose some voice related functionalities

@DrySushi: Fun Fact: Riley ate his twin in the womb, it made him 10% stronger and deadlier.

@LordOmnipotent: I saw the title and the first thing i thought was that maybe someone's adult content got onto youtube lol

@somerandomdudeable: xtube is a risky thing to google search

Also, "X long-form videos" lmao I though you were gonna say "X videos"

@holysoles: I live for Riley's quickbits intros and Yes Alexander, the judge is literally ignoring ALL the Brazilians, laws for the last 2 years, we literally is acting like a god, judging , prosecuting anyone that we don't like, even the process we keep as secret, you are arrested and even don't know what crime you committed, if any, innocent people already died in jail because of him, impeachment is on the way for they guy.

and we also, froze the space X bank accounts in Brazil with no law grounds, totally different company, once again, Brazilian laws say expressively against this, and we don't care, just froze any way

2-Space X NEVER refused to block X, that was a FALSE RUMOR, that some random said, without evidence, and some ""journalist"" took as 100% true, the official communicate of Space X say that they WILL block X, so another lie/misinformation

@RafaelScarpa: 1:00 Elon Musk is being as petty as you'd imagine but the orders to block accounts mentioned that the users shouldn't be informed that it was a supreme court the decision and there was no subsequent investigation. The users included an American citizen that lives in the US but was born in Brazil. The judge also singlehandedly decided VPNs were to be pulled from all online stores but stepped back. Upon stepping back his ruling became phrased incoherently but was followed anyway. He also decided anyone using a VPN to access Twitter would receive a fine of about $10000 per day and didn't say how that would be possible or mention any law to justify that. He did all that in 24 hours when the normal timeframe for Elon to respond would be 90 days. You could easily argue the misinformation was just facts that looked bad on that judge and/or the party he was previously a lawyer for but that's neither here or there at this point.

Happy you guys are covering this at all.

Never wanted to use Twitter more than since I was told not to.

P.S.: Oh and I find it pretty understandable they blocked Starlink funds as part of a de facto economic group if we're pretending the rest of the facts line up.

@gabekeepsitreal: Your WAYYY out side the scope of what you know about what is going on in Brazil the supreme court is breaking the constitution to censor politicians with opposing views points and was found to do this at the time of the election which is 4x the crime . The people who also decided what is or ain't fake news is all from the party of the active president which is obviously suppressing the opposition calling it fake news... In. Brazil we don't need censorship we need TOLERANCE and a bi partisanship to determine fake news and the one judge in the supreme court needs to be removed for over reaching their power and breaching the constitution which is the superior in moving law of the land everything after it's creation is Subjected to it meaning it has to work with it , its a bit different than Canada and the usa lula da Silva is letting this happen because for years before and after his imprisonment he was @IraQNid: I remember the Lithium-ion Air battery slab that promoted a 24-hour battery life for laptops in the late 1990s to early 2000s. It was not rechargeable, though. But you could attach it to the bottom of any laptop computer. So you might want to check out the tech you're breezing over to see who else did it decades ago.

@YT0091: I hope XTube takes off. Really tired of the unnecessary censorship on YouTube. For example, you can't say the word "suicide" or "rape" without getting demonetized. Yet, these words are RARELY used in a manner to glorify them. They are said to report and educate. Now softer words are used to make them seem not so bad. Which completely defeats the goal of stopping these things.

@user-yr3om5lx2y: Brazils president should be in prison if they are freezing other countries investments and assets

@user-yr3om5lx2y: Elon really is a failure, Tesla is billions in debt due to buying Twitter and continuing to lose money

@droidwest90: Why don't police just ask for footage instead of towing? OH! THATS RIGHT! Their police, they don't give a fuck!

@CreativityNull: It doesn't start being a Snapdragon X until it's single core. The 'Plus' means plus extra cores.

@Eric-yt7fp: oh sweet another thing for elon musk to copy poorly and take sole credit for inventing, just like he did electric cars and fucking subways.

@TheDarkFalcon: Sponsor Keyboard has no numpad? No thanks ?

@PocketDrummer: 5:30 - Someone please explain to me how this isn't an illegal search and seizure. It's literally both in as plain English as it can possibly get.

@RafaGmod: In Brazil we are calling Elon "Kiko dos Foguetes" in bluesky. I really think that X won't survive here. Almost all creators migrated to bluesky and threads.

YouTube Comments Analysis Report

Bsky have a 2015 twitter vibe that proves that twiter/X algorithm was really fucking up the platform

@digitalmatrix87: Voice quality very bad

@Umbreon-Jet: All these idiots in the comments that think its actually called XTube because they only read the clickbait title lmao

@Premislao89: Can't wait for the first Tesla to be scrapped because it "witnessed" the crime committed by a dirty cop ?

@gravity00x: Remember, just a couple months ago this channel was defending facebook and co and claiming that its absolutely unlikely that facebook/meta and co would commit such crimes.

@navinvent: you mean X videos?

@brianbarker2551: Wow, now I can learn all about chemtrails and why vaccines are bad! Thanks Elmo

@warp00009: If Elon's behind it, I won't ever be using it!

@XInfinity2024: Towing a owner's tesla just because it might have caught a crime on camera is not only illegal but I can see the owner getting screwed over if they can't drive to work and there isn't any law that would make law enforcement pay for their lost wages and any other fees while they have it.

@ShukenFlash: Don't temp them Riley. Mice having macro/function buttons is pretty common, even if they just go forward and back or something. Don't tempt Microsoft to make one a copilot button by default, and the setting it change it would be buried and obscure.

@NdxxtremePro: You know, it probably isn't smart to shutter a company that does rockets for a living. What happens is one suddenly had an unfortunate accident over the justices house?

@NdxxtremePro: TBF, these accounts are supposed to be owned by candidates in their elections. If Musk did cave, it would be election interference from a foreign entity.

@gasracing5000: @3:30

This is news? Phones have been listening to us for years. At least Amazon was up front and told me they were doing it, but even that admission was years ago.

@tonyburzio4107: Intel may be delisted from the stock exchange, which means they will be in a battle to avoid bankruptcy. They are considering reorganization, one of the various styles of bankruptcy but by no means the worst.

@VentDeux: Twitter had a TV app? Wtf

YouTube Comments Analysis Report

@Keirnoth: That decision is already being countered by Brazilian politicians, Riley. A bit late on that one.

@Andreeeee75: 00:56 Correction: the decision was approved by all supreme court justices yesterday.

Edit: 6 judges already voted so the supreme court has majority of votes to keep the decision. I like to point that decisions like this are common and follow the brazilian law. Following the narrative of "one judge picking on Musk" it's not really the whole picture.

@bloodylotus9304: Grandma what are u watching? something on the x youtube! No grandma, that's the wrong site!!!

Ohyaa ohyaa drink my kool-aid!!!!

@deionjsm: This was some extremely depressing tech news

@Razear: How long until XVideos decides to litigate?

@JScott-Ig4jb: I just want a framework 13 with OLED and either Oculink or thunderbolt 5. Enough of this AI crap.

I want a repairable laptop that I can plug into an actual GPU. A bigger battery would be nice too but not as big a deal.

@Bambam-: Isn't all telsa footage uploaded to a server? Incase as you crash and everything is damaged?

I haven't looked into this, I'm too lazy. Just trusted my tech bro friend.

@AllThatJazOfficial: Man windows is such a piece of shit operating system. We really need another option that has same capabilities for gaming. Don't @ me with that Linux or Mac OS shit. We know they can't game the same...

@mstrmold1807: "X releases a Beta version" - Don't you mean... a manly ALPHA version?

@laser__unicorn: 1:11 They are not under investigation, there is no investigation, the judge just persecutes people at will and the orders he gave to Musk and X are completely illegal and void.

@joshy7489: WTF is Xtube ?

@flamedragon6716: A spicy title if you know what I mean! ?

@IdealIdeas100: Towing your tesla because it could have caught a crime on the cameras without the owners knowledge sounds incredibly illegal.

@lm_dccxl4078: i mean if you catch the name, the publicity stunt worked

Musk is a foreign agent, y'all. If you stand with him, you also stand with the worst kind of people: unironic Iran and North Korea stans.

@Shat_Tastic: roflmao i was just thinking x needs a youtube after seeing them blurred out guns on youtube wtf?

@juanmartin1729: Well at least, the videos will not be censored?. My left hand is ready.

@V2inur: Surprised Elon didn't sue xVideo to get their domain

@SharkWars180: W love you elon. pause

@renevalleramos994: Cocomelon on XTube

@jumbomuffin1316: Elon is becoming a villain. Also Google.. imagine buying a pixel lol. And these idiots want blue vs green to end

@gary3669IFH: That's not exactly what happened my friends. Because of the insane demands of Supreme Court justice Alexandre, Elon had to remove all twitter workers from the country, or they would be sent to jail. Then, because twitter didn't appoint any legal personnel to the Brazilian government, they froze starlink assets in retaliation.

@DJBillionator: It's okay. Not everyone can be as cool as Elon. Simp more! You'll come around!

@markcleveland9656: Elon Musk always Xs everything up. Way to go Elon.

@RigelArndt: elon musk needs to micro manage everything and network producers are not about to wait for every little thing to get approved, so don't expect this xTube thing to go anywhere. It's dead on arrival.

@Blue2x2x: Yeah... goooood luck, Elon. Considering the name, and the fact that X is just another "FrEeSpEeCh" platform that is anything but a place that upholds the principle of Freedom of Speech and Expression, alienate anyone who isn't (by your words) "nOrMaL".

@TheEuropeanFox: Honestly if Elon adds another couple 'X' and pivot their business model I expect they'll have a lot of new users

@tcelltech2518: The anti-Elon/X bias on these tech channels is cringe inducing...

@Ness_and_Sonic: I'd suggest Elon Musk consider banning the judge that told him to ban accounts they're don't like and don't unban the account unless he issues an appology and states the accounts he wants banned shouldn't have been banned. It would give the judge a taste of his own medicine and offer him a chance to decide if what he asked Elon to do is really worth it.

@gogogomes7025: I wonder if Elon is trying to get the rights to Xvideos ???

@Mihnea729: No thank you Elon !

@James2210: Elon doin a really early april fools joke

@andrewsolis2988: Elon is now on the side of reason and common sense so of course they try to road block him at every turn. Seems to be the norm now

@unkown34x33: thanks for reporting on the Brazilian ban Riley. and NOT twisted the story. it's all Elon's fault... as usual based on all the evidence. though I hope the ban will stay forever

@FlameForgedSoul: The Brazill Vs X becomes even more of a clown show when you know about (and are completely unsurprised by) the almost immediate spike in VPN sign ups after the ruling. Brazilian Lex Luthor (thanks Mental Outlaw) then decided the play there was to threatened to fine people close to 9K a day if caught using a VPN to circumvent the ban. Which, you know, good luck with that. Be nice to see Elon KSE with _certain other governments._

@alexandrecolautoneto7374: Brazil following the US, stated that Xwitter can get back if Elon sells the company to a Brazilian owner.

@66_Psycho_66: Elon musk is nothing more then an bully I hope all is business go bankrupt

@0xKazuto: I mean, Elon can purchase xvideos for the whole platform

@whorta: The actual legal reason for Brazil to block X was because X didn't have any legal representation in Brazil, which is against the law for any international company that wants to act in national soil.

Elon Musk removed X's representation in Brazil which made it an illegal company thus resulting in being blocked. 1:19

@daniel-bg5nq: You guys are a joke regarding your reporting on elon/x.

@PPpaladin: for one sec I thought Elon is gonna buy Youtube, thank god that's not happening

@rjsmith2007: Whereas the previous Twitter TV app had no users. The new X TV app has 1 user. Elon Musk. Well that's if you don't count the 10 alt accounts he uses to post memes.

@Gold_Yoshi: "We want a YouTube Replacement"

Elon: "I got you"

"We want anyone else to come up with a YouTube Replacement"

@user78405: i for entire world ban xtube and x platform....i wonder how long will it last for elon musk when nobody have access to his platforms of ID thieves

@gesnow: More Elon Musk crap it's time to shut down X

@sethmorgan0305: You guys simp way too hard for authoritarian regimes. At some point, you should give the Elon hate a rest and acknowledge he is capable of being right sometimes.

@Carstuff111: Xtube? Yay for more stupidity on an epic level. Bravo Elon....Ugh.

@user-yr3om5lx2y: Elon really is a failure, Tesla is billions in debt due to buying Twitter and continuing to lose money

@Artista_Frustrado: oh yeah because they do such a great job at totally not lagging when playing a GIF i will totally trust Elon to make a functional YouTube ripoff... why couldn't he buy Truth Social instead?

@MyNamelsBucket: OH THANK GOD. i thought elongated muskrat was trying to acquire youtube from google...

@warp00009: If Elon's behind it, I won't ever be using it!

@Jaie55: Elon what did you do

@ImCxoi: At some point everyone will give up on calling things what Elon wants.

@RafaelScarpa: 1:00 Elon Musk is being as petty as you'd imagine but the orders to block accounts mentioned that the users shouldn't be informed that it was a aupreme court the decision and there was no subsequent investigation. The users included an American citizen that lives in the US but was born in Brazil. The judge also singlehandedly decided VPNs were to be pulled from all online stores but stepped back.

YouTube Comments Analysis Report

Upon stepping back his ruling became phrased incoherently but was followed anyway. He also decided anyone using a VPN to access Twitter would receive a fine of about $10000 per day and didn't say how that would be possible or mention any law to justify that. He did all that in 24 hours when the normal timeframe for Elon to respond would be 90 days. You could easily argue the misinformation was just facts that looked bad on that judge and/or the party he was previously a lawyer for but that's neither here or there at this point.

Happy you guys are covering this at all.

Never wanted to use Twitter more than since I was told not to.

P.S.: Oh and I find it pretty understandable they blocked Starlink funds as part of a de facto economic group if we're pretending the rest of the facts line up.

@paulanderson2963: Geez It's too on the nose Elon you should have called it XVideos...
Oh wait.
